

GRADUATING CLASS WILL BE LARGE ONE

Rochester High School to Send
Out Ninety-Six Pupils.

FOR THE YEAR OF 1901

Exercises Will be Held at Lyceum
Theater Friday Morning With Interesting Programme—List
of Graduates.

The graduating exercises of the people of the high school are to take place Friday morning at the Lyceum theater when the following programme will be given: 1, music by the orchestra; 2, "Talk, Idle Talk," essay, by Charles Saunders; 3, "Robert Louis Stevenson," oration by Arthur William O'Brien; 4, "Shrines of America," essay, Katherine H. S. Shepard; 5, vocal number; 6, "Education of the Heart," essay, Jean Ernisee Crowe; 7, "A Broad Outlook," essay, May L. Barrett; 8, music by the orchestra; 9, "The American Navy," oration, Sidney Francis Rice; 10, "The Hoosier Poet," essay, Grace Irwin; 11, "Individual Responsibility," Helen Rogers, valedictorian; 12, vocal number; 13, address by Rev. Dr. William R. Taylor; 14, presentation of diplomas by Dr. Chas. K. Gilbert.

The following is a list of graduates of the class of 1901:

English course—Anna B. Atkinson, Mary L. Barrett, Ottilia M. Berna, Evangeline M. Etsel, May E. L. Gallagher, Margaret E. Gosnell, Carrie Marie Graham, Blanche Esther Horcheler, Anna Knowles Hunt, Millicent C. Jackson, Vinnie Mae Maxham, Helen M. Mills, Anna Marea Reid, Florence G. S. Seiler, Katherine H. Shepard, Esther A. Smith, Mayme F. Smith, Sophia Coe Stone, May Estelle Wellman, Genevieve S. Yost.

German Scientific course—Herman J. Butler, James Lawrence Elwood, Carl William Haefner, Jr., James Laragy Howe, Joseph Alonzo McMaster, Ethel Frances Thompson, William F. Worrall, Joel DeWitt Justin.

Latin Scientific course—Louise F. Amish,

Lillia V. Babcock, Gertrude S. Bancroft, Henrietta A. Becker, Samuel Woodman Bradstreet, Jr., Emille F. Cassebeer, Kate Englehardt, Matie J. Gosnell, Arthur Wells Graley, Wilson G. Harger, Herma Maud Harkness, Laura Faith Harwood, Ruth Margaret Hayden, Henrietta, Sietska Hoekstra, Ransom Noble Kalbfleisch, Frederick Chester Line, Gertrude Willis Merriam, James Robinson McClintock, Marie D. Osborn, George M. Pappert, Shirley S. Priddis, Altha M. Pritchard, Maie Dunshee Roades, Mai Ethel Rosenthal, Anna M. Servis, Hallie Irene Shearer, Leo F. Simpson, Harriet Stillman, Anna Elizabeth Vanderwerf, Bertha Vick, Frances Chapin Wilbor, Myrtle Louise Wilcox, Irene Du Pont Winans, Alvalyn E. Woodward, Nelson G. Brayer.

Classical course—Harry Willard Bosworth, Elizabeth Calhoun, George Burt Caudle, Arthur Lewis Chase, Trafton M. Crandall, Jane Ernisee Crowe, Lillian May Enders, James Kerwin Feely, Jessie May Harkness, Ira H. Harrington, Grace Irwin, Jerome Kates, Florence Marie Kershner, Arthur Kochenthal, R. Estelle Leseritz, Florence M. Lewis, May Alice Miller, Edward E. Morris, Katharine Chamberlain Noyes, Arthur William O'Brien, Florence Colby Peck, Arthur Raynsford, Sydney Francis Rice, Olwen Roberts, Helen Rogers, Gertrude Salisbury, Miriam Saunders, Florence A. Southworth, Frederick Weik, William H. White, Harriet Whited.

Of the graduates, numbering ninety-six, total, sixty-two are girls. Of this number the following, so far, have signified their intention of going to college, and have mentioned the following colleges:

Boys—Harry Willard Bosworth, University of Rochester; Samuel Woodman Bradstreet, Jr., Cincinnati Medical College; George Burt Caudle, University of Rochester; Arthur Lewis Chase, Cornell (College); Trafton Milford Crandall, University of Rochester (probably); James Lawrence Elwood, Cornell, Sibley College; James Kerwin Feely, University of Rochester (probably); Carl William Haefner, Cornell, College of Civil Engineering; William Gardner Harger, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Ira Hopkins Harrington, University of Rochester; Jerome Kates, Hobart College; Ransom Noble Kalbfleisch, University of Rochester; Edward Ernest Morris, University of Rochester; James Robinson McClintock, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (possibly); Arthur William O'Brien, Rochester, Cornell, Toronto; Arthur Raynsford, University of Rochester; Leo F. Simpson, University of Rochester, or Perdue; Herbert Raymond Taylor, University of Rochester; Fredrick Weik, University of Rochester; William Hunter White, University of Rochester; William Frederick Worrall, University of Rochester; Fred C. Line.

Girls—Jean E. Crowe, University of Rochester; Emilie F. Cassebeer, University of Rochester; May E. L. Gallagher, Normal; Margaret E. Gosnell, Smith College; Herma M. Harkness, Mt. Holyoke; Anna K. Hunt, Smith College; Estelle R. Leseritz, University of Rochester; Florence M. Lewis, University of Rochester; May A. Miller, University of Rochester; Katherine C. Noyes, Smith College; Florence C. Peck, University of Rochester; Shirley Priddis, University of Rochester; Helen Rogers, University of Rochester; Ethel M. Rosenthal, University of Rochester; Gertrude Salisbury, University of Rochester; Miriam Saunders, University of Rochester or Alfred College; Hallie Shearer, University of Rochester; Mayme F. Smith, University of Rochester; Florence A. Southworth, University of Rochester; May E. Wellman, Alb[any] Normal College; Frances C. Wilbor, University of Rochester; Harriet D. Whited, University of Rochester.

The number of girls taking the higher education, so far indicated, exceeds number of boys by one.

Citation:

“Graduating Class Will Be Large One” ,
Rochester Democrat and Chronicle newspaper,
Rochester, New York,
Thursday, June 27, 1901,
p. 10, col. 7.

Repository: <http://www.fultonhistory.com/>
viewed on 23 Feb. 2007.

Transcriber: James G. Laragy, Jr. on 14 Mar.
2007. Correction made on 31 Mar. 2007.

File label: DOC 0042

Notes: The Academy Building, formerly the Rochester Free Academy, at 13 South Fitzhugh Street. Designed by local architect Andrew Jackson Warner and constructed in 1872-73, it served as the city high school for 30 years.

In 1899, the Free Academy's name was officially changed to to Rochester High School. To satisfy the increasing need for space, the City of Rochester agreed to build two new high schools. East High School which opened in 1903, and West High School which opened in 1905.

The Academy Building was converted to office space in the early 1980s.

GRADUATING CLASS WILL BE LARGE ONE

Rochester High School to Send
Out Ninety-Six Pupils.

FOR THE YEAR OF 1901

Exercises Will be Held at Lyceum
Theater Friday Morning With Interesting Programme—List
of Graduates.

The graduating exercises of the pupils of the high school are to take place Friday morning at the Lyceum theater when the following programme will be given: 1. music by the orchestra; 2. "Talk, Ideals," essay, by Charles Saunders; 3. "Robert Louis Stevenson," oration by Arthur William O'Brien; 4. "Shakespeare of America," essay, Katherine H. Shepard; 5. vocal number; 6. "Education of the Heart," essay, Jean Ernise Crowe; 7. "A Broad Outlook," essay, May L. Barrett; 8. music by the orchestra; 9. "The American Navy" oration, Sidney Francis Rice; 10. "The Hoosier Poet," essay, Grace Irwin; 11. "Individual Responsibility," Helen Rogers, valedictorian; 12. vocal number; 13. address by Rev. Dr. William B. Taylor; 14. presentation of diplomas by Dr. Chas. K. Gilbert.

The following is a list of graduates of the class of 1901:

English course—Anna E. Atkisson, Mary L. Barrett, Ottilia M. Beron, Evangeline E. Eisel, May E. L. Gallagher, Margaret E. Gosnell, Carrie Marie Graham, Blanche Thatcher Horcholer, Anna Knowles Hunt, Edw. Cent C. Jackson, Vinnie Mae Maxham, Helen M. Mills, Anna Maria Reid, Florence G. A. Selter, Katherine H. Shepard, Esther A. Smith, Mayme F. Smith, Sophia Coe Stone, May Estelle Wellman, Genevieve S. Yarnall.
German scientific course—Herman J. Haefner, James Lawrence Elwood, Herman J. Haefner, Jr., James Laragy Howe, Joseph Alonzo McMaster, Ebel Frances Thompson, William F. Worrall, Joel De Witt Justice.
Latin scientific course—Louise F. Ansh, Lillia V. Babcock, Gertrude S. Bancroft, Beatrice A. Becker, Samuel Woodman Bradstreet, Jr., Emilie F. Cassabee, Kate Engelhardt, Marie J. Gosnell, Arthur Wells Gray, Wilson G. Harger, Herma Maud Harkness, Laura Faith Harwood, Ruth Margaret Heaton, Henrietta Sietka Hoekstra, Ransom Noble Kaibfleisch, Frederick Chester Linn, Gertrude Willis Merriman, James Robinson McClintock, Marie D. Osborn, George R. Pappert, Shirley H. Priddie, Alta M. Priddie, Male Dunshier Reades, Mal Ebel Rosenthal, Anna M. Servin, Hallie Irene Shearer, Leo F. Simpson, Harriet Crisman, Ann Elizabeth Vanderwert, Bertha Vick, Frances Chapin Wilbur, Myrtle Louise Wilcox, Inez Du Pont Winans, Aivalyn E. Woodward, Nelson G. Brayer.
Classical course—Harry Willard Bosworth, Elizabeth Calhoun, George Burt Caudie, Arthur Lewis Chase, Trifton M. Crandall, Jean Ernise Crowe, Lillian May Endera, James Kerwin Feely, Jessie May Harkness, H. Harrington, Grace Irwin, Jerome Katen, Florence Marie Kretzner, Arthur Rosenthal, K. Estelle Lesteris, Florence M. Levi, May Alice Miller, Edward E. Morris, Katherine Chamberlain Noyes, Arthur William O'Brien, Florence Colby Peck, Arthur Raymond, Sydney Francis Rice, Oliver Robert Helen Rogers, Gertrude Salisbury, Miriam Saunders, Florence A. Southworth, Frederick Weik, William H. White, Harriet White.

Of the graduates, numbering ninety-six, total, sixty-two are girls. Of this number the following, so far, have signified their intention of going to college, and have mentioned the following colleges:

Boys—Harry Willard Bosworth, University of Rochester; Samuel Woodman Bradstreet, Jr., Cincinnati Medical College; George Burt Caudie, University of Rochester; Arthur Lewis Chase, Cornell (College); Trifton M. Crandall, University of Rochester (probably); James Lawrence Elwood, Cornell; Sidney College; James Kerwin Feely, University of Rochester (probably); Carl William Harker, Cornell; College of Civil Engineering; Wilson Gardner Harger, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Ira Hopkins Harrington, University of Rochester; Jerome Katen, Hobart College; Ransom Noble Kaibfleisch, University of Rochester; Edward Ernest Morris, University of Rochester; James Robinson McClintock, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (probably); Arthur William O'Brien, Rochester; Cornell, Toronto; Arthur Raynsford, University of Rochester; Leo F. Simpson, University of Rochester, or Purdue; Herbert Raymond Taylor, University of Rochester; Frederick Weik, University of Rochester; William Harker White, University of Rochester; William Frederick Worrall, University of Rochester; Fred C. Line.

Girls—Jean E. Crowe, University of Rochester; Emilie F. Cassabee, University of Rochester; May E. L. Gallagher, Normal; Margaret E. Gosnell, Smith College; Herma M. Harkness, Mt. Holyoke; Anna K. Hunt, Smith College; Estelle E. Lesteris, University of Rochester; Florence M. Levi, University of Rochester; May A. Miller, University of Rochester; Katherine C. Noyes, Smith College; Florence C. Peck, University of Rochester; Shirley Priddie, University of Rochester; Helen Rogers, University of Rochester; Ebel M. Rosenthal, University of Rochester; Gertrude Salisbury, University of Rochester; Miriam Saunders, University of Rochester; Alfred College; Hallie Shearer, University of Rochester; Mayme F. Smith, University of Rochester; Florence A. Southworth, University of Rochester; May E. Wellman, Albion Normal College; Frances C. Wilbur, University of Rochester; Harriet D. White, University of Rochester.

The number of girls taking the higher education, so far indicated, exceeds the number of boys by one.